Aluminum Profile Led Light CATALOGUE

Last Update : 2022.07.15

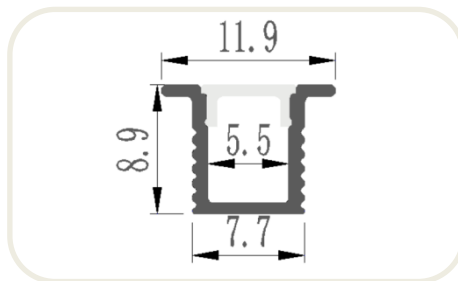

Aluminum Profile LED light is traditional LED lighting, it made by specially designed aluminum profile, with ordinary rigid strip or flexible led strip, to make it become a kind of new functional lighting products. Aluminum Profile rigid strip light is often use for cabinet lighting, counter lighting, jewelry display, closet lighting, etc.

Aluminum profiles are professionally designed to suit a variety of specific applications, it cover with a PC layer that make the light more softens, at the same time to protect LED from environmental interference. Aluminum profile is very beautiful appearance, the product is strong, practical, and it is very simple installation, rigid strip is very popular with customers, can also give designers a lot of design inspiration. After continuous upgrading, there are more than 300 types of aluminum profiles to choose from.

Aluminum profile has a good heat dissipation function, that is good to make led with a longer working life, led light color is soft, and very good consistency, profiles have a variety of styles, beautiful and practical appearance, economical, durable, easy to process and install, etc. to make it favorite from led lighting decoration market.
